

Western New York Alpaca Show
July 14-15, 2007

Vendor Application Introduction:

Our host, Empire City Farms of Cuba, New York, has a very long and well-known tradition in agriculture in this region. With the historic barn as a backdrop, the Alpaca Breeders of Western New York have organized a nationally certified Level II alpaca competition. This event will be complemented by the Fiber Festival of Western New York featuring working artisans processing the very valuable alpaca fiber. An array of alpaca clothing, both machine and handmade, will be available for sale at the alpaca store. The event is expected to attract several thousand walk-ins from the public as a diversity of public activities will be organized for adults and children.

Your support will help us provide a well-rounded experience for participating families.

Particulars:

Location: Empire City Farms, Route 305 (South Street), 1 mile South of Cuba, New York
Set-up: Friday, July 13, 12:00- 6:00
Take down: Sunday, July 15, after 3:00
Stall Size: 10' x 10' (or as arranged)
Cost: $250.00

Application

Business Name: _____

Contact Person: _____

Business Address: _____

Business Telephone: _____

Please mail this application and a copy of your Certificate of Insurance to:

Greta Gregory
4572 Whalen Road
Great Valley, New York, 14741
716.945.0434

Please enclose a check for $250.00 made out to "ABWNY".

Thanks so much for your support!